Pingles on the Face &c.

In cases of Gene al Debility, whether the result of scute disease or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscu ar energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written at estation would render credible. Invalids so long bed-ridded to be become forestent in their own which only as to become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have sudde by re appeared in the busy word as if just returned from protracted travel in a distant band—Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female bufferers, emiciated victure of apparent marasmus, sanguingous exhaustion, critical changes, and that emplication of nervous and avspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no

In Nervous affections of all kinds, and for reasons fam liar to medical men, the operation of this prepara-tion of troo must recessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old exides, it is vigorous y to de, without being ex-ciring and overheating; and gently, regularly aperient even in the most obstinate cases of custiveness without ever being a gustric purgative, or indicating a disagree able sen-ation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remed for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a specific retion by dispersing the local tendency which
